Welcome to the 2023 ESU TLab Scholarship Program!

Every year, grateful teachers across the US tell us of the value and life-changing nature of summer classes they have taken at Oxford, Edinburgh and Shakespeare's Globe in London thanks to the generosity and support of ESU Branches. With your Branch's generous participation during the 2022-2023 academic year, the English-Speaking Union can continue to support and inspire teachers, change careers and impact thousands of students.

Inside this Handbook, you will find the tools you need to promote the program, receive applications and select a candidate. Regardless of whether you are sending last year's scholarship recipient, adding or choosing another scholar, participating for the very first time or first time in a long time, we are happy to make the process as easy as possible.

First step? Review the contents of this Handbook. Then, let us know your plans and most up to date information by completing the 2023 TLab Branch Participation Form. Once you sign up, we can customize your Branch's TLab Scholarship application and post it on your web page. 2023 ESU TLab Scholarship Branch Participation forms are available on our website under Branch Resources or click into the following link the 2023 TLab Branch Participation Form Any questions or suggestions, please contact Alice Uhl, Education Programs Director, International Scholarship & Debate at auhl@esuus.org or 212-818-1200, ext. 212.

Teachers are eager to travel and learn abroad again and we are already receiving inquiries from teachers nationwide regarding next summer's dates and details. Programs are offered at approximately the same time every summer. 2023 dates and details are usually provided from the UK in November for Edinburgh and December/January for Oxford and the Globe and will be posted on the ESU website and shared with you as soon as they are received.

On behalf of all the teachers you have supported in the past, and those whose lives you will change in the future, we thank you. Your commitment, generosity and dedication to education is an inspiration to all!

TLab Branch Scholarships

First Step: Define your branch scholarship and Select your TLab Coordinator.

- Determine the amount of your scholarship(s); tuition for a three-week summer program in 2023 will be between $4500 and $6000 depending on the length and location of the program.
- Partial scholarships are set amounts that cover a portion of a TLab program fee; this amount should be clear to applicants/scholars.
- Full scholarships cover the entire TLab program fee and may also include airfare and/or a stipend, in which case the amount of the airfare and/or stipend should be clear to applicants/scholars.

By October 20, 2022:

Complete the 2023 TLab Branch Participation Form to confirm your Branch's scholarship(s) for Summer 2023

Next Step: Assemble a TLab Scholarship Selection Committee.

TLab Scholarship Committee

- Must consist of at least two people, one with professional academic experience, if possible.
 - TLab alumni and ESU National Shakespeare Competition Committee members and/or judges make excellent committee members.
- Should include at least one ESU Branch board member.
- Any TLab Scholarship Committee member affiliated with a candidate or their friends, family or school should recuse themselves from the final selection process.

TLab Scholarship Teacher Selection

- Select teachers who will have the greatest impact and most benefit from an ESU TLab Scholarship:
 - Mid-career, full-time teachers with 5 to 15 years teaching experience.
 - Teachers who work in schools with a significant number of underserved students.
 - Teachers who have not studied overseas or participated in extended professional development.
 - English Language Arts/Literature teachers (rather than drama teachers) are prioritized for the Globe's "Teaching Shakespeare Through Performance" program. Applications to the Globe should emphasize classroom teaching experiences and not directorial or acting experience. The Globe prefers classroom teachers over "teaching artists."
- The TLab Scholarship should be advertised to public secondary school, independent and parochial school teachers.

Funding and Partnerships

TLab programs are two to three weeks in duration, and fees range from approximately $4,500 to $6,000, each.

The fee includes:

- Tuition
- Most meals
- Dorm (with shared bathroom)
 - Private, en suite accommodations may be available for an extra cost.
 - Your ESU Branch should discuss with your scholar(s) if this cost is included in their scholarship. Branches are not obligated to, nor do they typically, cover these extra costs.

Each ESU Branch decides whether to provide a full or partial scholarship and whether or not to contribute toward the teachers' airfare. Many teachers are delighted to receive partial scholarships and may be able to raise additional funds through professional or personal means. Please recommend the Teacher Fundraising Guide to your scholars who may be seeking additional funds, and/or scholars who are not ultimately awarded your branch's scholarship.

Your ESU Branch TLab Scholarship is the perfect opportunity to increase visibility of the ESU's educational mission and partner with other local organizations. Identify and contact organizations or businesses in your community who would be interested in supporting the TLab Scholarship.

Partnering Events

Some Branches hold an additional event in conjunction with an ESU TLab Scholarship. You may consider one or more of the following events:

- Scholar presentation at Branch meeting
- TLab alumni teacher workshop
- Wrench Lecture

Scholarship Application Process

Prospective scholars will complete and submit the 2023 TLab Branch Scholarship Application. ESU National will post applications to the website.

TLab Scholarship Committees will review the applications, notify potential scholars of their application status and invite those scholars to interview (January-February 2023).

It is preferred TLab Scholars are selected by February 21, 2023, so that ESU National can receive the information in time for the March 1st deadline. TLab Coordinators will complete the 2023 Branch Scholar Entry Form (available on the website under Branch Resources in November) to notify ESU National of the ESU Branch scholars for Summer 2023.

The Name Branch of the English-Speaking Union of the United States is offering a scholarship of up to (insert amount) to a branch area high school teacher for study in the United Kingdom during Summer 2023.

Since 1957, more than 2,600 American high school teachers have continued their own education through summer study at prestigious centers of learning in the United Kingdom – Shakespeare's Globe, University of Edinburgh, and the University of Oxford – as ESU Scholars. Past ESU TLab scholars reflect on their time in the UK:

If there's one thing you should be prepared for, it's that this experience will not only change your practices in the classroom, but it could quite likely change your life.

—TLab Scholar, Shakespeare's Globe, Teaching Shakespeare Through Performance

I feel like I'm back to my undergrad days: wide-eyed, sometimes overwhelmed, but always in awe of the abilities of the people around me. I'm remembering my passion for literature.

—TLab Scholar, University of Oxford, English Literature Summer School

ESU TLab Summer Study Programs in the UK give teachers an opportunity to engage in rewarding, enriching professional development – to return to the classroom reinvigorated and inspired, ready to share their experiences with their students and colleagues. Guidelines for TLab Scholarship Interviewers

Please use the following guidelines when interviewing ESU TLab Scholarship candidates. These guidelines have been standardized across branches.

- A Clearly outstanding candidate. Professionally and academically superior, innovative, open to new ideas, teachers who exhibit leadership qualities in their school and extracurricular activities in many areas or very strong in one significant area. Would be an excellent participant and give back to their students and the ESU.
- A- Very strong candidate who would be successful if chosen. Academically curious – understands the personal and professional benefits of life-long learning; significant involvement in school’s mission and extracurricular activities. Minor factors or interviewer’s reservations prevent full A.
- B+ Perfectly acceptable candidate who would succeed. Some reservations about maturity, academic strengths, flexibility to adapt to new surroundings and pedagogy or extracurriculars.
- B A long shot. Might well succeed because of unusual strength in one area despite some reservations about others.

Scottish Universities’ International Summer Schools (SUISS) and University of Oxford Programs are intellectually rigorous, graduate level seminars. Teachers agree to complete all preparatory reading, attend all seminars and spend considerable time in the library to complete all reading and research including a final paper of 2,000-3,000 words.

Shakespeare’s Globe “Teaching Shakespeare Through Performance” is rigorous intellectually and physically. English Literature teachers are strongly encouraged to apply and must currently be full-time, classroom teachers who will be teaching Shakespeare in the upcoming year.

Publicizing TLab Scholarships

Your Branch TLab Scholarship is the perfect opportunity to raise visibility of the ESU's educational mission and connection to your community. Celebrate and share the achievement of your TLab Scholarship recipients.

Prior to awarding a TLab Scholarship:

- Inform ESU National of any specific application information so that it may be posted on your website.
- Visit schools and talk about the TLab Scholarship at school/department meetings.
- Attend teacher conferences in your local area. Distribute application information.
- Identify educator organizations in your area. Encourage them to forward ESU TLab Scholarship application materials to their teacher contacts.
- Encourage schools to post ESU TLab Scholarship application information on their website.

Announcing a TLab Scholarship

- Suggest schools announce their teachers' achievement on their website and school/community newsletter.
- Contact your local newspaper and/or radio and invite a reporter (usually in the Education or City/Metro divisions) to attend the award ceremony. If you wish to distribute a press release to local media prior to or following the award ceremony, please request these materials from ESU National.

Please note: Every scholarship recipient must sign the 2023 Branch TLab Photo Release Form (available online) and email to tlab@esuus.org. Without this release form, you cannot post, publish or distribute any photos or videos of the scholars.

Dispensing TLab Scholarship Funds

The ESU remits a single payment to each British institution on behalf of all the ESU TLab Scholars attending their respective programs. Accordingly, once all scholars are accepted at the participating institutions, we are invoiced by the institutions and, in turn, invoice the Branches for the cost in dollars. Invoices will be sent to the ESU Branch Treasurer and TLab Chair. Remission of the funds will be due upon receipt. In order to make one payment to each educational institution (University of Oxford, Shakespeare's Globe, SUISS) and to offset other charges like credit card payment service fees and banking service fees for each wire transfer payments, as well as fluctuations in the exchange rate, which often occurs between money collection and final payment, a 3.5% application fee is applied.

Branches will disperse payments directly to the teachers for transportation funds and stipends (if applicable). ESU TLab Scholarships likely do not meet the IRS' limited definition of a "scholarship," as they do not involve candidates receiving payments to pursue a degree. Consequently, they fall under the IRS designation as "prizes or awards," which are taxable under IRS section 74. This means that branches must provide teachers and the IRS with form 1099 Miscellaneous Income for the amount turned over to the teacher (if the amount is $600 or more in total). Given that the awards to teachers involve continuing professional education, it is likely that the grant monies they spend in connection with the scholarship are deductible as "unreimbursed employee expense," but this is a matter for the individual recipients to consider.

Summary of Payments

- University of Oxford, SUISS and Globe fees: payable to The English-Speaking Union.
- Airfare: payable directly to the airline or as a check to the teacher to reimburse for international airfare (if applicable). Minimum of 4 weeks prior to departure.
- Stipend: payable by check to the teacher (if applicable).

Cancellation and Insurance Policy

If an ESU TLab Scholar is unable to attend the program, they must notify the ESU Branch and the Education Department in writing. Fees paid to the institution will be returned according to the individual school's cancellation policy, as specified in their materials. Recipients will be personally liable for TLab fees disbursed or paid prior to departure in the event of a withdrawal.

If the State Department of the United States announces a "no travel" policy or an Individual School cancels a program, Fees paid to the institution will be returned according to the individual school's cancellation policy, as specified in their materials.
